THE STARK REMINDER

ONE THIRD

1/3 of the US female population is currently peri or menopausal

50%

It is also estimated that nearly half of women are not aware, feel unprepared for, or don't understand perimenopause and menopause

$26.6
BILLION

The estimated annual cost to the US of lost productivity and health expenses resulting from employees who are managing menopause symptoms.

We are a not for profit organisation, and we urgently need funding to help us run the day-to-day operations that deliver our programs such as The MenoChannel, The Advice Line, and awareness raising efforts.

If you would like to help support us on our mission to support women in perimenopause and menopause and raise the national conscience on the topic , then we would appreciate the opportunity to speak about how we can work together.
